

Image Permission and Use Agreement

I/we request permission to reproduce the image(s) (above or list attached) from Haverford College Quaker & Special Collections (hereafter referred to as Special Collections) for the purpose specified in this agreement. I/we agree to abide by the following terms:

- Credit must be given to Special Collections and, if known, the creator of the work.
- Credit lines must appear with the image or on a credit page indicating the page number and location on the page for each work. Films, videotapes and slide shows may use a credit section at the beginning or end to give credit to Special Collections. For web site use, credit should appear either next to or directly below the image.
- Permission is granted for one time use. To reuse photographs, please request permission in writing from the Head of Special Collections.
- If in print, a copy of the publication containing the image(s) should be given to Special Collections as soon as the work has been published.
- Special Collections does not claim to control the rights of reproduction for pictorial material in its collections. The publishing party assumes all responsibility for clearing reproduction rights and for any infringement of the U.S. Copyright Code.
- Photographs may be cropped to suit design and layout, but they may not be altered or drawn upon so that they look in any way different from the way they appear in the collection.
- Special Collections reserves the right to refuse permission and/or provide image reproduction services to publishers and individuals who have not complied with its policies.
- Special Collections reserves the right to decline reproduction of fragile items or for inappropriate use.

COPYRIGHT NOTICE The copyright law of the United States governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Since 1978, unpublished manuscripts have been accorded federal copyright protection. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of those specified conditions is that the copy is not to be "Used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a researcher uses a reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. Copyright ownership does not necessarily accompany physical ownership of a manuscript. An owner of the physical manuscript may assert certain proprietary rights in regard to the physical manuscript, for example permitting or denying access to the property. This assertion of ownership rights, however, is distinct and separate from any copyright consideration affecting the manuscript.
